

MPH Colloquia

Topic: Association between biomarkers of antioxidants and risk of prostate cancer

Speaker: Dr. Jasmeet Gill

April 20th, 2011

KHS 174

5:30pm

Dr. Gill will be presenting her recent work and results from the prospective Multiethnic Cohort Study on the association of antioxidants and prostate cancer.

Speaker Background: Dr. Gill received her Ph.D. in Epidemiology from the University of California, Los Angeles (2005) and completed an NIH sponsored Postdoctoral Fellowship at the University of Hawaii Cancer Research Center. She is currently faculty in the department of Health Science. Dr. Gill's interest is in breast cancer, specifically differences in the biology of and risk factors for in situ breast cancer and invasive breast cancer. She's also interested in serum biomarkers, gene polymorphisms and risk factors for cancer in ethnic minority groups.

Sponsored By: The Health Science Department and the Center for Cancer Disparities Research